Louisville Attorneys Weigh-In on Helping Employers Curb the COVID Aspect of the Tripledemic

News
2.02.23

In an article about how employers can curb the spread of COVID's most contagious mutation, Benefits Pro cites a client alert co-authored by Todd Logsdon and Daniel Graham. In their piece, Todd and Daniel explain that some workplaces may have been lulled into a false sense of security, which could be shattered by new variants such as the XBB COVID strain. But the co-authors caution that OSHA is not going away, and thus "employers should not grow complacent when it comes to the oversight of their workplaces."

To read the article visit Benefits Pro.

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Todd B. Logsdon
Partner
502.561.3971
Email

Service Focus

Copyright © 2024 Fisher Phillips LLP. All Rights Reserved.

Workplace Safety and Catastrophe Management

Industry Focus

Manufacturing

Trending

COVID-19/Vaccine Resource Center

Related Offices

Louisville

Copyright © 2024 Fisher Phillips LLP. All Rights Reserved.