Your dealership is always moving forward and evolving. The same is true with compliance at your dealership. Since change is inevitable, how can you improve compliance at your dealership without sending your employees running out the door?

Join us for a webinar on October 10 as we discuss how to Keep Your Dealership Compliant Without Scaring Employees Away.

Hear from a panel of industry veterans, including Fisher Phillips' very own Steve Roppolo. They'll walk through common workforce compliance scenarios dealerships experience and how to make progress in your culture of compliance without alienating your employees. Topics will include how to handle:

- Pay plan changes
- Employee accommodations
- And more
