

Employers Can Still Fire Colorado Pot Smokers For Legal Use

News

12.27.13

Danielle Urban was quoted in the Denver Post, Twincities.com, CSMonitor.com and Salon.com.

Recreational cannabis sales began Jan. 1, 2014. Employees should know they could still be fired for using it on or off-duty.

State law gives employers full authority to impose any drug prohibitions they wish, despite it being legal in Colorado for adults to possess and consume marijuana.

"Right now there is a great deal of confusion," said Danielle. "People are surprised to learn that they can lose their jobs."

Read more.

Danielle was also quoted in on AllVoices.com, Trust.org, FleetOwner.com.

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Danielle S. Urban, CIPP/E

Partner

303.218.3650

— —

