Philadelphia Economic Development Corporation announced Rick Grimaldi was selected as a new member to its board of directors.

He was appointed jointly by Mayor Michael A. Nutter and Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce President and CEO Rob Wonderling at PIDC's annual meeting.

"We welcome the addition of this diverse group of business leaders to our board," said John Grady, president of PIDC. "Their wealth of experience will be a great asset in fulfilling PIDC's mission of planning and implementing real estate and financing transactions to attract investment and jobs to Philadelphia."
