

Insights, News & Events

HIGH COURT'S RECENT TERM LEAVES EMPLOYERS SITTING PRETTY

News

Jul 2, 2014

The July 2, 2014 Law360 article "High Court's Recent Term Leaves Employers Sitting Pretty" quoted Rich Meneghello, partner in Portland office.

Both workers and employers picked up big wins during the U.S. Supreme Court's recently completed session, but overall, employers had the better high court term, not only prevailing in key cases but also setting the stage for what could be even more gains in the future.

"It wasn't exactly a clean sweep, but we certainly got more wins than losses," said Rich. "These aren't just wins for today. The seeds have been planted for potential big gains for management in years to come."

Click here to read the full article.

Related People

Richard R. Meneghello

Chief Content Officer

503.205.8044