

Lyft Settlement Faces Scrutiny

News

3.26.16

The article, "Lyft Settlement Faces Scrutiny," featured in San Jose Mercury News, discussed how although Lyft is willing to shell out more than $12 million, that may not be enough to end a controversial lawsuit over whether its drivers should receive employee benefits.

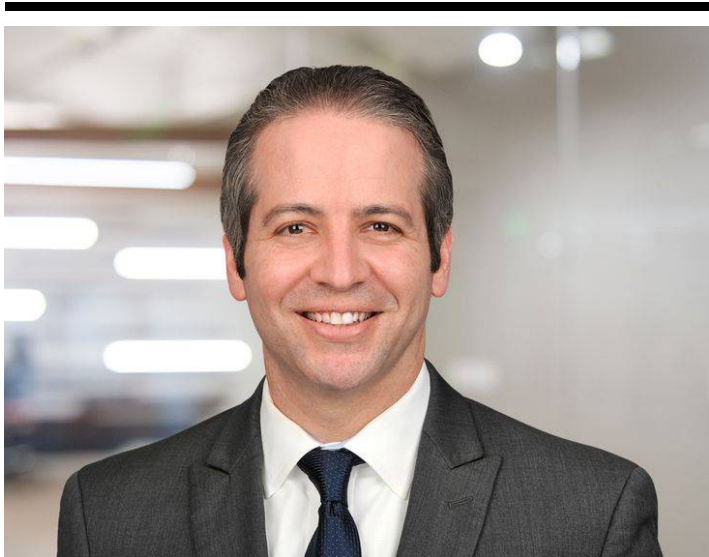

Todd Scherwin weighed in on the case.

"Based on the questions being asked, I would guess that this is not going to end this week," said Todd. "But you never know."

To read the full article, please visit San Jose Mercury News.

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Todd B. Scherwin
Regional Managing Partner
213.330.4450
Email