

10 Tips Lawyers Want You to Know Before You Hand Over Your Next Confidentiality Agreement

News

5.31.16

In the article, “10 Tips Lawyers Want You to Know Before You Hand Over Your Next Confidentiality Agreement,” featured in All Tops Startups, a handful of lawyers experienced with Confidentiality Agreements share their best tips and insights for you to mull over for the next time you hand one over.

Mitch Baker shared this well-known saying in intellectual property law to convey the importance of being specific when drafting Confidentiality Agreements.

“Keep them as simple as possible and limit what you define as ‘confidential’ to those things that truly are.” In essence, that means not to pack in every single piece of information into the contract to be treated as confidential. Keep in mind that, “if you haven’t treated it as confidential, the court won’t require your former employees to do so.”

To read the full article, please visit All Tops Startups.

---

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Mitchell C. Baker
Partner

Partner
503.205.8080
Email

Service Focus

Employee Defection and Trade Secrets