

New OSHA Electronic Reporting Puts a Target on Employers' Backs

News
6.06.16

The article, "New OSHA Electronic Reporting Puts a Target on Employers' Backs," featured in MH&L, highlighted how "regulations by shaming" has become OSHA's standard way of dealing with employers under the Obama Administration.

Howard Mavity weighed in on this strategy.

He said, "This 'regulation by shame' strategy will continue to focus employer efforts on the lagging indicators of workplace injuries instead of incentivizing the leading indicator activities that actually prevent injuries."

To read the full article, please visit MH&L.

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Howard A. Mavity
Partner
404.240.4204
Email

Service Focus

Workplace Safety and Catastrophe Management