SAN ANTONIO & ATLANTA (June 29, 2016) — Inspired eLearning, the nation's leading security and compliance training company, and Fisher Phillips, the management-side labor and employment law firm, announced today the debut of their latest Human Resources Compliance Training Program. The dynamic training modules cover: Discrimination, Workplace Diversity, Handling Complaints, Federal and State Wage & Hour, Bullying, Lawful Interviewing, Workplace Violence, Active Shooter, Lawful Hiring, FERPA, Disabilities & Accommodations, Lawful Termination and Drug-Free Workplace. The short course format of the training modules enables employees to quickly absorb the subject matter. The courses are available via web and mobile platforms.

Felix Odigie, CEO of Inspired eLearning, said, "Today's Human Resources professionals must balance two distinct roles: protecting their organizations from costly legal threats while enabling their companies to perform effectively. Our Human Resources program empowers companies to ensure their employees are knowledgeable of federal, state and local legal requirements."

Joseph Ambash, partner at Fisher Phillips, ranked as one of the nation's top employment law firms, said, "A single discrimination or wrongful discharge claim can inflict enormous cost on an organization – not only in money, but in time, morale and reputation as well. Inspired eLearning's Human Resources Compliance series was created in collaboration with our Firm to help employers prevent claims before they arise. Effective training is critical to that effort."

The program's details, course demos, and other courses available from Inspired eLearning's Human Resources Training Program can be found on Inspired eLearning's website.
