The article, “What the New Overtime Regulations Mean for Remodelers,” featured in Professional Remodeler,” examined how the U.S. Department of Labor’s (DOL) new overtime regulations will impact the remodeling industry and what employers should do to ensure they are in compliance.

Mike Abcarian discussed why a lot of employers are misclassifying workers as exempt administrative employees.

“They misclassify administrative help who don’t qualify because they don’t exercise significant independent judgment,” said Mike.
