

California Lawmakers Seek Protections In Case Of Worksite Raids

News
3.30.17

California lawmakers are seeking to offer legislative protection to immigrant workers to challenge potential Trump administration worksite raids. In the article, "California Lawmakers Seek Protections In Case Of Worksite Raids," featured in Nation's Restaurant News, Benjamin Ebbink comments on Assembly Bill 450 that was recently unveiled.

"California is very protective of immigrant workers rights, and now we're in a situation where the federal government may be very aggressive on immigration enforcement," he said. "It really puts employers right in the middle, with the state government going one direction and the federal government going another."
