The article, "Protecting Yourself Against Corporate Espionage," published in Super Lawyers, highlights Attorney Usama Kahf and his advice to employees on preventative measures to combat employee defection.

"I want to make sure that we're implementing better security and better contracts that are reasonably tailored and enforceable in California," says Kahf.

Kahf recommends having "robust" confidentiality agreements to ensure company information is protected. "A lot of the ones I see are old or badly written, and opposing counsels have figured out a way to argue around them," he says.
