REGIONAL MANAGING PARTNER JIM HOLLAND COMMENTS ON WHAT'S NEXT FOR MISSOURI EMPLOYERS AFTER VOTERS DEFEAT RIGHT-TO-WORK PROPOSITION

News
Aug 9, 2018

Although Missouri voters soundly defeated a measure that would have instituted a right-to-work law, supporters' fight for reform might not be over, said Kansas City Regional Managing Partner Jim Holland. The Missouri legislature, which is still heavily Republican, could pass a right-to-work bill in the next session, a move that would bring the issue back to voters.
