

Atlanta Partner Discusses LOTO Compliance with EHS Daily Advisor

News
9.14.18

In an interview with EHS Daily Advisor, Tracy Moon discusses the purpose of lockout/tagout (LOTO), and how to keep your organization's LOTO procedures and machine guarding programs compliant with OSHA standards. Tracy explains the purpose of LOTO "is to prevent the unexpected energization of equipment or machines and to protect workers from hazardous energy." Tracy details the types of energy and equipment that employers should consider in developing a LOTO procedure and also breaks down what an energy control plan should include.
