PHILADELPHIA (November 20, 2018) – Fisher Phillips today announces the addition of employment attorneys Gavin Carpenter and Shannon Rozell, who join as associates in the Philadelphia office.

Prior to joining Fisher Phillips, Gavin worked as an associate for a labor and employment law firm in Boston, where he focused his practice on employment discrimination, wage and hour claims, class and collective action issues and non-compete agreements. Gavin earned his law degree and undergraduate degree in psychology from Boston College.

Shannon joins Fisher Phillips from Robins Kaplan, LLP in New York City, where her practice focused on anti-competitive conduct and commercial disputes. Shannon earned her Juris Doctor degree from Benjamin Cardozo School of Law and earned her undergraduate degree in English from Western Michigan University.

“Gavin and Shannon come to us with a good foundation of initial litigation and counseling experience,” said Chris Stief, the regional managing partner of the Philadelphia office of Fisher Phillips. “They will be a great addition to our growing team and we know our clients will see an immediate benefit from the addition of strong new associate talent.”
