

Seattle Regional Managing Partner Discusses ICE Audits in Hotel Industry

News

12.09.18

In an interview for Hotel Management titled “How to prevent ICE from knocking at your door,” Davis C. Bae discusses the immigration-related challenges facing the hotel industry. He explains that many hotels are targets for ICE because of their size and that it is a tall order to comply with myriad laws and regulations. Davis warns that if employers fail to act on I-9 compliance, “it could shut down your business or result in personal liability.”
