IRVINE (Oct. 8, 2019) – Fisher Phillips, a national labor and employment law firm representing employers, announces the additions of Lyle Chan and Kari Gibson as associates in its Irvine office.

Lyle Chan represents and counsels clients in a variety of employment-related matters, including wage and hour disputes; discrimination; harassment; retaliation and wrongful termination; and proceedings before the National Labor Relations Board. He also has experience in general liability and construction-defect litigation. He joins the firm from Wolfe & Wyman LLP. Lyle received his J.D. from Loyola School of Law (2014) and his B.A. from the University of California, Los Angeles (2010).

Kari Gibson defends companies in all areas of employment litigation and advises on general employment and compliance issues. With experience at every stage of litigation, Kari joins the firm from the Public Law Center. She earned her J.D. from the University of Southern California, Gould School of Law (2013), her M.A. from the University of Hawaii at Manoa (2004) and her B.A., cum laude, from the University of Southern California (1992).
