DALLAS (October 28, 2019) – Fisher Phillips, a national labor and employment law firm representing employers, announces that Sarabeth Hall has joined the firm as an associate in the Dallas office.

Sarabeth joins from McGuireWoods where she focused on employment litigation. At Fisher Phillips she will continue her work as a litigator and will represent employers in a variety of disputes involving Title VII, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act, and a variety of state anti-discrimination laws.

Sarabeth earned her law degree from the Oklahoma City University School of Law where she was a member of law review and graduated magna cum laude. She also earned her master's degree in accounting from Texas Christian University and is a certified public accountant in both Texas and California. Prior to attending law school, Sarabeth worked as a senior audit associate for the largest independent public accounting firm in the Southwest.
