

Partner Provides Insight into Ohio Board of Professional Conduct's Advisory Opinion on Non-Compete Agreements for In-House Counsel

News

2.25.20

The Ohio Board of Professional Conduct (“the Board”) issued an advisory opinion prohibiting in-house counsel from entering into an agreement that restricts their right to practice law after separation of employment. But in an interview with Corporate Counsel, Cleveland partner Jeffrey Smith cautions that the Board’s advisory opinion may, in fact, “have the impact of limiting the ability to work as corporate counsel at another company if that other position is both legal and business in nature.”

To read the article, visit Corporate Counsel (subscription required).

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Jeffrey D. Smith

Partner

440.838.8800

Email

Related Offices

Cleveland
Columbus