DETROIT (March 9, 2020) – Fisher Phillips, a national labor and employment law firm representing employers, welcomes Stephen R. Gee as an Associate in the firm’s Detroit office. Stephen arrives on the heels of the firm joining forces with The Murray Law Group under the Fisher Phillips brand in Detroit on January 1, 2020.

With the recent addition of the team in Detroit, Fisher Phillips has benefited from a group of attorneys known for providing counseling, negotiation and litigation services to local and national employers across a wide range of industries. Stephen will complement the team’s ability to provide labor and employment services across industries with his own diverse experience representing clients in a variety of sectors including healthcare, construction, education and automotive.

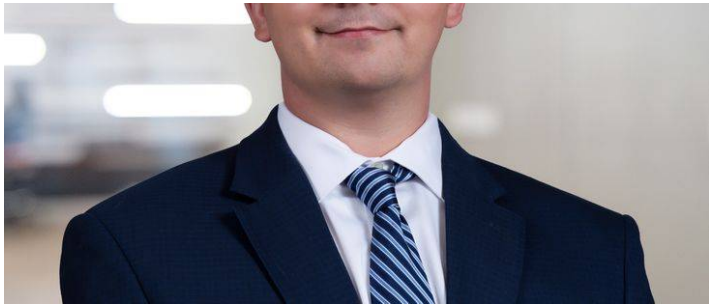

Stephen has defended employers in complex wage and hour class action litigation and has guided employers on compliance with state and federal laws including the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and Title VII. He has also defended employers before the Michigan Department of Civil Rights, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and the National Labor Relations Board.

Stephen earned his law degree from Chicago-Kent College of Law where he served on the Executive Board of Law Review and was a Student Editor on the Employee Rights & Employment Policy Journal. Prior to Law School, Stephen earned his Bachelors of Business Administration with High Distinction from the University of Michigan’s Stephen M. Ross School of Business.
