Partner Mathew Parker was recently interviewed by Columbus Business First about the impact of COVID-19 on Ohio breweries. The resulting articles discuss COVID-19's economic impact, and the fact that despite any relief available from the CARES Act, the reality is reflected in a nationwide survey from the Brewers Association showing the likelihood that thousands of breweries will be forced to close their doors for good due to the pandemic.

Mat has heard from many of his brewery clients wondering if more assistance will become available as they struggle to stay afloat. He explains that the future is uncertain, and he and his clients are all questioning whether “they are going to be in the same boat come late summer or fall.”
