In an interview with New Orleans City Business, Ed Harold shares the most frequent questions that he has been fielding from clients over the past six weeks of the pandemic. He explains that he has been advising employers on a variety of issues ranging from various federal stimulus packages and loan programs to cost reduction measures such as furloughs and layoffs. In the article, Ed provides the top three questions he has been receiving as follows:

1. How do I keep my business safe for employees and customers and avoid potential liability?
2. How do I get employees to return to work?
3. How do I use my Paycheck Protection Program loan correctly and receive forgiveness for it?

Throughout the article Ed also provides helpful insights for employers who may be facing similar concerns.
