The following are the Terms of Use for this website to which you agree by virtue of your use of the website. If you do not agree with such Terms of Use, please refrain from further use of this site.

Firm Name

“Fisher Phillips” is a trade name for the law firm of Fisher Phillips, a Georgia limited liability partnership. The firm’s logo and its tagline “On the Front Lines of Workplace Law” are registered service marks of Fisher Phillips. They may not be used without our prior written permission.

No Legal Advice

The information and materials on this site are provided for informational purposes only. They do not necessarily represent the position or opinions of the firm or its partners or attorneys collectively, and they do not constitute legal advice. You should consult with a qualified lawyer of your choice who is familiar with all of the facts of your situation before making a decision about any legal matter. Discussion of prior case results on this website should not be construed as a guarantee that similar results will be obtained in future cases.

No Attorney-Client Relationship

Your accessing this site and the information contained herein, or your subscribing to newsletters or alerts via this site, shall not create an attorney-client relationship between our firm and you and/or any entity you represent. Nor will any such attorney-client relationship be established by your sending us unsolicited information via e-mail through this site. If you communicate with us by e-mail through this site or otherwise in connection with a matter for which we have not yet established an attorney-client relationship, your communication may not be treated as privileged or confidential. An attorney-client relationship with our firm may only be established after we have run the appropriate conflicts checks and we have issued, and the client has signed, our engagement letter agreement.

Advertising

In some jurisdictions, a website may be considered attorney advertising. The hiring of a lawyer is an important decision, and you should not rely solely upon advertisements. You should act with the benefit of full information about the attorney and firm you select. To that end, please contact us if you would like more information about our firm.

No representation is made or intended that the quality of the legal services to be performed is greater than the quality of legal services performed by other lawyers.

Specialist or Expert Designations

The State of Nevada does not certify any lawyer as a specialist or expert. Unless otherwise indicated, Fisher Phillips attorneys are not certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization, the Tennessee Commission on Continuing Legal Education and Specialization, or the Missouri Bar.
