

Insights, News & Events

GETTING YOUR EMPLOYEES IN THE HOLIDAY MOOD - WITHOUT GETTING SUED! - PART 2

Publication
Nov 15, 2011

With a continued struggling economy for many, it is no surprise that employers may not be in the mood to host extravagant Holiday parties this year. Instead, some will opt for scaled down celebrations, to say "thank you" and reward employees for a long year's work. If you are thinking about toning down the cost and size of your Holiday get-together, please keep these important suggestions in mind.

Click on the link below to download our recommendations.

RESOURCES

30382_Getting Your Employees in the Holiday Mood Without Getting Sued Part 2 REVISED