

Louisville Lawyers Discuss OSHA's Revised COVID-19 Enforcement Plan

Publication
7.07.20

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) updated its enforcement response plan with guidance on its priorities for dealing with COVID-19-related complaints and inspections as more states are taking steps to reopen their economies and workers are returning to their workplaces. In a bylined article for Rock Road Recycle, Todd Logsdon and Paul Goatley break down OSHA's enforcement priorities and remind employers that the shift will likely impact recordkeeping obligations.
