

What Ohio COVID-19 Liability Shield Means for Employers

Publication

10.16.20

To help reduce fear and encourage businesses to open their doors, Ohio Governor Mike DeWine signed H.B. 606 — the Good Samaritan Expansion Bill — into law to protect employers, among others, from the risk of COVID-19-related liability. In a bylined article published in Law360, Jeffrey Smith explains what employers need to know about the new law while stressing that the protections against liability for exposure to COVID-19 under the law are narrow and it will not shield employers from all liability arising out of the pandemic.

To read the article, visit Law360 (subscription required).

Related People

Jeffrey D. Smith

Partner

440.838.8800

Email

Related Offices

Cleveland