Employers with operations in Colorado should be preparing for a big change that will impact your workplaces, as Colorado's Equal Pay for Equal Work Act becomes effective on January 1, 2021. With the effective date fast approaching, you must use the remaining months in 2020 to get up to speed on the requirements and adjust your policies, procedures, and job postings. Fisher Phillips' virtual seminar is a must for employers with operations in Colorado who are focused on employment laws impacting the workplace and for any counsel grappling with these timely and challenging equal pay legal issues.
