1.13.21

2:00 - 3:00 PM EST

The new year will bring a new Presidential administration and new leadership in MSHA. Mine operators can expect to see significant changes in the Agency, particularly in times of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. This roundtable discussion will forecast what can be expected from a new MSHA in the next four years. Panelists will cover topics such as enforcement, MSHA policy, the regulatory agenda, and MSHA's litigation strategy and will offer guidance for how mine operators on how best to prepare for what is expected to be a very different MSHA. This session will take the form of a roundtable discussion and take questions from attendees.

This webinar is pending for 1 HRCI/SHRM credit hour.
