

Phoenix Business Journal: 3 Top Employment Law Trends for 2015

Publication

12.16.14

Shayna Balch was a guest blogger for the Phoenix Business Journal on December 16, 2014.

As with life, the one constant in employment law is that of never-ending change.

2014 brought a host of new laws pertaining to discrimination questionnaires, immigration and gay marriage. 2015 is slated to bring a number of additional changes that will affect employers on a daily basis.

In the article, Shayna discusses employment law trends for 2015 and provides some suggestions on how to be best prepared.

1. An Increased agency enforcement
2. More requests for accommodations from employees
3. Increased wage and hour investigations and lawsuits

To read the full article, please visit Phoenix Business Journal.