CO-CHAIR OF FISHER PHILLIPS' LABOR RELATIONS PRACTICE INTERVIEWED ON UPDATES AT NLRB

News

Jan 20, 2021

Politico turned to Steven Bernstein, co-chair of Fisher Phillips' Labor Relations practice, for insight into updates at the NLRB under the Biden administration. The dismissal of NLRB general counsel raised legal questions because his removal took place before the end of his term. Steve says the former general counsel may have an avenue to challenge his firing because the NLRA states that the president may remove any member of the board for "neglect of duty or malfeasance in office." He says he has seen no indication that the administration has found that he's guilty of such misconduct.
