

The Rise of In-House Counsel within College Athletics Departments

Publication

2.23.15

Scott Schneider's article "The Rise of In-House Counsel within College Athletics Departments" was featured on Safety Outlook on February 23, 2015.

In the article, Scott answers the following questions regarding athletics safety:

- Is our equipment state of the art?
- Are we following NCAA guidelines and is that enough?
- Should we implement medical surveillance programs?
- Should the university be involved in this activity at all?

To read the full article, please visit Safety Outlook.