BUSINESS AS USUAL: THE VERDICT ON WHETHER THE ROBERTS COURT IS INDEED PRO-BUSINESS

Publication
May 20, 2016

In the article, "Business As Usual: The Verdict on Whether the Roberts Court is Indeed Pro-Business," featured in the HR Professionals Magazine, Associate Gabriel McGaha examines recent history of the Supreme Court and discusses how despite the Court's general bend towards protecting business interests, the death of Justice Scalia has left some companies unwilling to take their chances before the Court.
