CALIFORNIA PARTNER TAPPED BY LA TIMES AND SF CHRONICLE FOR INSIGHT ON STATE'S NEW COVID PAID LEAVE LAWS

News

Mar 30, 2021

In interviews with the Los Angeles Times and San Francisco Chronicle, Ben Ebbink breaks down what California employers need to know about the state's new COVID-19 paid leave laws. The new laws require employers with more than 25 workers to create a separate pool of sick days for workers, retroactive to the beginning of the year. Ben notes the challenges the new law presents for employers, including the relatively short period of time employers have had to come into compliance with the rules and the retroactivity mandate. The Los Angeles Times links to the firm's detailed legal alert on the new laws.
