

Play Big. Say Yes.

Publication

12.01.16

10-Minutes of Professional Development

In legal-speak, it is undisputed. I am neither a chef, nor a restaurateur. I am, however, skilled in the craft of professional reinvention. With that in mind, as we move into the busy push between Halloween's sugar rush and New Year's hangover, grab a few mindful moments to evaluate what you want out of 2017.

To start, let me introduce you to Tara Mohr's 10 Rules for Brilliant Women. Mohr starts first with the premise that many times women "don't know their own brilliance." This is partially because they've talked themselves out of it.

To read the full article, please visit WCR.