

Disability Suits Over Website Access Surge

Publication

11.06.17

Following the Winn-Dixie decision, more courts are ruling against companies over the issue of website accessibility. In the article, "Disability Suits Over Website Access Surge," featured in Business Insurance, Regional Managing Partner Steve Miller provides commentary on the divergent rulings on the issue.

"The pendulum is certainly shifting" toward rulings that say a company's website needs to be accessible under the Title III of the ADA, said Miller.

To read the full article, please visit Business Insurance.

Related People

Steve A. Miller

Partner

312.580.7817

Email