

What Employers Might Expect from An Emergency Temporary Standard Addressing COVID-19

Publication

5.28.21

In a byline article published in Textile Services, Todd Logsdon explains the status of the impending Emergency Temporary Standard (ETS) addressing COVID-19, and he discusses what employers should expect as it becomes closer to reality. Todd cautions employers that - even without an ETS in place - they still need to stay current on OSHA and CDC guidance to protect their employees and avoid citations related to COVID-19.

Click here to read the full article, which was printed in the June 2021 issue of Textile Services.

Related People

Todd B. Logsdon

Partner

502.561.3971

Email

Service Focus

Workplace Safety and Catastrophe Management

Related Offices

Louisville

