

Dealerships Must Put a Stop to Sexual Harassment, or It Could Cost Them Big

Publication

12.25.17

Steven Ferenczy's article "Dealerships Must Put A Stop To Sexual Harassment, Or It Could Cost Them Big" was featured in Automotive News. In the article, Steven provides insight on how dealerships can take proactive steps to protect their company. Dealerships should:

- Get educated in order to implement policies and procedures designed to prevent harassment from occurring
- Educate employees regarding your dealership's no-harassment policies
- Train employees at all levels

To read the full article, please visit Automotive News.