

Why the Office is no Place for Valentine's Day

Publication

2.14.18

The New Jersey Law Journal article “Why the Office is no Place for Valentine’s Day” authored by Rosemary Gousman discusses why every employer should use the current heightened awareness to reinforce its commitment to prevention of sexual harassment in the workplace and reexamine its policies and procedures to determine whether they provide an effective means to encourage and address sexual harassment allegations.

To read the full article, visit New Jersey Law Journal.

Related People

Rosemary S. Gousman

Partner

908.516.1060

Email