New Additions in San Francisco Talk to the Media About Joining the Office and Expanding the Firm's Immigration Practice

In interviews with Law360 and the Daily Journal, Jang Im and Arit Butani discuss joining the San Francisco office and growing the firm's immigration practice. "Fisher Phillips has a growing immigration practice that I think leverages, not only my team, but the clients that I have for additional immigration support," Jang told the Daily Journal. Similarly, Arit highlights the firm's culture and support in an interview with Law 360. "From day one, it's been a pleasure working at Fisher Phillips. The one thing that I've noticed is, the partners encourage you to excel in your career, they want you to take the next step towards partnership."
