

New Orleans Attorney Explores Maritime Employment Law

Publication

12.13.18

While it may sound like they're in charge, captains may not actually be supervisors of their own ship crews, according to the National Labor Relations Board. In his Workboat Magazine column, New Orleans senior counsel Clyde Jacob covers two important legal cases and their implications for crewmembers.

To read the full article, visit Workboat Magazine.

Related People

Clyde H. Jacob, III

Senior Counsel

504.312.4424

Email

Related Offices

New Orleans