

Houston Managing Partner Authors on ADA Website Lawsuits

Publication

12.17.18

Over the past several years, there has been an onslaught of ADA lawsuits against companies based on alleged inaccessibility of websites. Currently, it appears that the lawyers pursuing these lawsuits alleging that websites are not ADA-compliant are focused on larger businesses like hotels, schools and retailers. But these lawsuits can be frustrating to even larger companies. In his article for Texas Lawyer, Houston Managing Partner Steve Roppolo discusses the best approaches for preventing and managing these “surf-by” website lawsuits.

To read the full article, visit Texas Lawyer.

Related People

Stephen J. Roppolo
Regional Managing Partner
713.292.5601
Email