

THREE BOSTON-BASED ATTORNEYS FEATURED ON BOSTON MAGAZINE'S 2021 'TOP LAWYERS' LIST

News
Nov 23, 2021

Boston Magazine named three Fisher Phillips attorneys to their inaugural "Top Lawyers of 2021" list. Joshua Nadreau, a partner in the Boston office, as well as associates Deepa Desai and Zinnia Khan, were each featured in the employment category.

Joshua has worked with clients in New England and across the country, routinely advising and representing clients in collective bargaining, arbitration proceedings, and before state and federal administrative agencies. His litigation practice focuses on class and collective wage and hour litigation.

Zinnia's practice focuses on management-side employment law, including the defense of matters concerning state and federal anti-discrimination statutes, wage and hour laws, leaves of absence and employment agreement disputes. She handles matters before state and federal courts, in addition to administrative agencies such as the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

Deepa focuses her practice defending employers against claims of harassment, discrimination, and retaliation, as well as wage and hour violations and contract disputes. She also counsels clients on day-to-day workplace matters, including the preparation of employee handbooks, hiring, terminations, discipline, leaves of absence and accommodations. Her clients span multiple industries, including institutions of higher education, retail companies,

The first-ever top lawyers list by Boston Magazine was “curated to showcase only the region’s finest legal minds.” To compile the guide, lawyers in the area were invited to nominate up to three of their peers in a select number of specialties. Those with the most votes in each specialty were reviewed by an advisory board of select lawyers, and selected for their credentials and the high number of votes they received.
