

Memphis Attorney Tackles Prevailing Wage Laws in Construction

Publication

1.08.19

Construction company executives, owners and employees who work on publicly funded construction projects should have a general understanding of prevailing wage laws. In a contributed article for Construction Executive, Memphis attorney Greg Grisham outlines the impact a September 2018 Court of Appeals decision has on delivery drivers of ready-mix concrete and the construction industry as a whole.

To read the full article, visit Construction Executive.

Related People

Greg Grisham

Partner

901.333.2076

Email

Related Offices

Memphis