

FP Flash Surveys

Overview

You want to have your finger on the pulse of modern workforce trends so you can operate effectively and in line with current trends – and we’re here to help. Check out the results from our FP Flash Surveys to stay up to speed with what your peers and competitors are doing when it comes to labor and employment issues. Fisher Phillips polls employers from across the nation on a regular basis to gain insights into the latest thinking on a variety of workplace law topics – from artificial intelligence to work-from-home policies, from mental health in the workplace to employment litigation – and reveals the results in a series of helpful Insights. The employment equation is changing, and following our Flash Surveys will ensure you are up to speed on the latest developments. Make sure that you are subscribed to Fisher Phillips’ Insights to not only make sure your voice is counted when the next Flash Survey is unveiled but also to guarantee you receive the survey results.
