

Fisher Phillips Welcomes Lauren Frisch in Atlanta

News

2.02.22

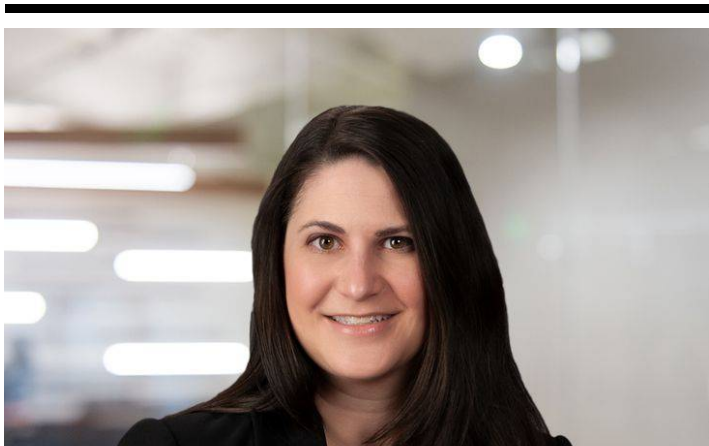

Fisher Phillips, one of the country's preeminent labor and employment law firms representing employers, is pleased to announce that Lauren Frisch has joined the firm as an associate in the Atlanta office.

Prior to joining Fisher Phillips, Lauren practiced restrictive covenant and trade secret litigation, as well as business litigation at a boutique Atlanta law firm. In addition, Lauren spent the first part of her legal career working in the public sector to protect consumers and legitimate business from unfair and deceptive trade practices. At Fisher Phillips, she expands the firm's Employee Defection and Trade Secret practice in Atlanta and will counsel clients on company policies and contacts, develop and implement strategies to efficiently review and produce eDiscovery, and advocate for and defend clients in state and federal courts.

Lauren earned her J.D. and B.A. from Emory University. She was chosen in 2018 and 2021 as one of Georgia's Legal Elite by Georgia Trend Magazine, a 2019 Pro Bono All Star by the Georgia Bar Journal and has been included in Georgia Super Lawyers - Rising Stars for 2020-2022. Outside of the office, Lauren serves on the Board of Directors for Conexx: American Israel Business Connector as well as the Atlanta Legal Aid's Service Council, which promotes the provision of pro bono legal services by private practice attorneys.
