Workplace activism is on the rise, and work stoppages ranging from labor union-led strikes to spontaneous employee walkouts have been at historic levels. This exciting program will examine what kinds of activity is lawful, and, most importantly, how to equip your company with the best contingency plan to counter the effectiveness of a strike or picketing activity.

Join Fisher Phillips Labor Relations Co-Chair, Todd Lyon, for a full day labor relations program on how to prepare for and succeed against strikes, pickets and boycotts. Whether you are a non-union company or a company with a longstanding labor relationship, Operations Managers, Human Resources Leaders, and Labor Relations Managers will learn “where the legal lines are” with respect to the latest strike tactics utilized by organized labor – with one eye on where the law stands today – and another on where it may be going.

If you have any questions, please contact Jennifer Barry-Smith.

Fisher Phillips is committed to providing access to all of our events for disabled attendees. If you need an accommodation to participate in this event, please give us three business days advance notice prior to the scheduled event by contacting Jennifer Barry-Smith. Thank you.
