For April's Wage and Hour Wednesday webinar, attorneys Jim Fessenden and Mark Jacobs will help employers, who operate in California, understand the myriad wage and hour challenges affecting their business operations. The state's wage and hour laws are the product of a thicket of confusing laws that may sound like a foreign language to the uninitiated. Fisher Phillips' California wage and hour attorneys will dive deeper on some of the legal complexities for business that have employees in The Golden State including PAGA compliance, worker classification, wage calculations, meal periods, rest breaks, and more.
