

Ray Perez Named to Law360's Compliance Editorial Advisory Board

News

4.25.22

Raymond ("Ray") Perez has been named to Law360's 2022 Compliance Editorial Advisory Board. As one of eleven board members, Ray is tasked with providing feedback on Law360's content while providing insight on how best to shape future coverage.

Ray's selection was based in large part on his experience as Chair of Fisher Phillips' Corporate Compliance and Governance Practice Group. In that capacity, he leads a group of attorneys in advising employers on the development and implementation of compliance and ethics programs, codes of conduct, and diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives. Ray is known as an architect of compliance systems as he regularly works with employers to create and implement efficient and effective strategies to ensure compliance with labor and employment laws. In this role, Ray helps companies identify and prioritize compliance risks while also coordinating mitigation of these risks whenever feasible. He also works directly with boards of directors to establish compliance reporting systems and diversity and governance objectives and priorities.
