

Firm's Director of Knowledge Management and Innovation Co-Authors Article on How Innovation is Changing the Role and Impact of Law Librarians

Publication

May/June 2022

In a bylined article published in the May/June issue of AALL Spectrum, Jennifer Mendez, the firm's Director of Knowledge Management Innovation, discusses the evolving role of law librarians. Jennifer and her co-authors explain that as technology continues to disrupt and enhance the field, law librarians are at the forefront of that change, and are often both the early adopters and promoters of innovation. From understanding and leveraging API data, knowing where to find the proverbial needle in the haystack, and helping bridge the gap between IT and law practitioners, law librarians are taking on an outsized role at their firms. The co-authors notes that law librarians will be the ones to "...continue to build bridges to help attorneys navigate these tools, embrace process improvement, and focus on the bespoke legal work that their clients demand of them."
