

John Polson Discusses Legal Issues Confronting the PEO Industry

News
1.25.22

In an interview with InSync PEO Podcast, John Polson discusses the legal issues confronting the PEO (Professional Employer Organization) industry as well as what he anticipates in the future.

One major issue facing PEOs is potential liability associated with serious Covid-related illnesses. John advises that PEOs ensure that their clients follow all safety protocols and policies. John also discusses how the current presidential administration may reverse existing rules that have been favorable to PEOs. John also zeroes in on California-centric issues, including PAGA-related wage and hour claims, and advises that California employers review their wage payment practices every year.
